

North Dakota Public Fishing Waters

Data as of: December 09, 2018

The following includes all public fishing waters, listed alphabetically by Lake Name. Each listing includes travel directions, status of the fishery for the upcoming season, and fishing piers (listed if present). Larger systems have inset maps to give better detail for boating access locations of that system. Each location listing includes travel directions, facilities present, and managing authority. Most of North Dakota public fishing waters have a boat ramp (concrete and/or metal). If a boat ramp is lacking at a specific water body, it is listed as 'no ramp'. Hyperlinked Public Waters will open a PDF showing an aerial photo fishing map of the surrounding area and facilities available. The map may also include depth contours.

Deuce Lake (Sargent County): 1.5 miles south, 1 mile east, .25 miles south of Forman. Moderate numbers of pike and crappie. (No ramp).

Devils Lake (Not Specified County): The walleye population in Devils Lake continues to do well. Reproduction in recent years has generally been good and there are many fish that are less than 15 inches long. The numbers of walleye that are 15 to 20 inches long has dropped below average for the first time in many years. This is due to three consecutive year classes that were relatively low from 2013 to 2015. There are still fish in this size range, but anglers will probably have to fish longer to catch them than normal. The numbers of walleye over 20 inches long is a bit higher than the long-term average.

Northern pike will continue to provide excellent angler opportunities in 2018-2019. The northern pike in Devils Lake are doing very well and continue to reproduce naturally. Pike are abundant and can be found throughout the lake, particularly in the shallower areas. Most of the northern are between 23 to 30 inches, but trophy-sized pike are known to be present in the lake. Northern are a very under-utilized fish in Devils Lake, so anglers should not be shy about keeping their limit of pike.

The numbers of catchable-sized yellow perch in Devils Lake seems to be lower than last year. The numbers of perch from 8 to 12 inches are a little lower than the long-term average. The numbers of jumbos over 12 inches is below average as well. The numbers of perch smaller than 8 inches is above average. Overall, there should be perch for anglers to pursue in 2018-2019, but their average size will likely be on the smaller end of the keeper range.

White bass numbers have increased greatly recently and their numbers are currently very high. However, most of them are from the strong hatch in 2015. Most of them will probably be between 12 to 14 inches long in 2018-2019.

(Fishing pier).

Irvine-Alice Complex (Ramsey County): 4.5 miles north, .5 miles east of Churchs Ferry. Boat access conditions are currently very poor, as the make-shift boat launching site a few miles north of Churchs Ferry is unusable due to low water levels.

The walleye population in Lake Irvine is doing very well. They are abundant with many sizes available. Most are between 15 and 20 inches long, but larger individuals are present in good numbers as well.

Northern pike are very abundant in Lake Irvine. Most of the pike are medium-sized, but there are some larger fish present. Pike in Lake Irvine are under-utilized, so anglers should not be shy about keeping their limit of pike from this lake. In fact, the pike seem to be too abundant for their own good, as their body condition, or plumpness, has been declining, so keeping pike from this lake would actually be beneficial for the pike population as it may help reduce competition for food.

The numbers of yellow perch in Lake Irvine are low, but the few perch in the lake tend to be larger individuals.

The white bass numbers in Lake Irvine are low, but they are good-sized.

Fish populations in Lake Alice are similar to those in Lake Irvine. (No ramp).

Mitchell Lake (Burleigh County): 1 mile west, 2 miles north of Wing. Northern pike up to 6 pounds are abundant.

Monson Lake (Wells County): 1 mile south, 1 mile east, 8 miles south, 1 mile west of Bowdon. Strong perch population, with a balanced size structure. Walleye population is small, with some big fish. (No ramp).

Moon Lake (Barnes County): 2 miles west, 5.5 miles south, 4 miles west, 2 miles north of Valley City. Abundant walleye and perch. Occasional smallmouth bass, brown and/or rainbow trout.

Moore's Lake (Dickey County): 18.5 miles west, 1 mile north of Ellendale. Moderate numbers of pike and perch. (No ramp).

Mooreton Pond (Richland County): 2 miles east of Mooreton. Abundant bluegill. Moderate numbers of walleye and rainbow trout. Occasional perch, bass and channel catfish. (Fishing pier).

Moorings Pond (Ransom County): .75 miles west of the city of Fort Ransom. Rainbow trout stocked annually. (No ramp).

Morrison Lake (Ramsey County): 3 miles east, 2 miles south of Webster. Typically has good winter pike fishing until oxygen levels decline. Most fish are less than 5 pounds. (No ramp).

Mosher WPA (Barnes County): 2.5 miles north, 4.5 miles east of Dazey. Abundant walleye. Winter fishery. (No ramp).

Mott Watershed Dam (Hettinger County): North side of Mott. Winterkill of largemouth bass in 2018, very few left. Rainbow trout stocked annually, with some up to 2 pounds. Fair number of bluegill up to 1 pound. (Fishing pier).

Mount Carmel Dam (Cavalier County): 9 miles north, 2 miles east, 2 miles north of Langdon. Fair number of perch with most under 9 inches. Walleye numbers fair with fish averaging 17 inches. Decent number of nice pike. (Fishing pier).

Mud and Pearl Lakes (Stutsman County): 10 miles north, 2.5 miles west of Medina. Abundant perch, with some larger fish present. (No ramp).

Mud Lake (Sheridan County): 4.5 miles south of Anamoose. Newer perch lake, with a fair number of fish. (No ramp).

Mudd Lake (McIntosh County): 1 mile west of Lehr. Fair numbers of northern pike and low numbers of perch are present. (No ramp).

Mundt Lake (Logan County): 3 miles east, 4 miles north, 1 mile east, .5 miles south of Lehr. Walleye are abundant with perch and smallmouth bass present in fair numbers. (Fishing pier).

Nagel Lake (Koeplin WPA) (McIntosh County): 1 mile east, 1 mile south, 1 mile east of Lehr. Walleye are abundant and a fair number of perch are also present. (No ramp).

North Napoleon Lake (Logan County): 4.5 miles west, 1 mile north, 1 mile east of Napoleon. Both northern pike and small perch are abundant. (No ramp).

Nelson Lake (Oliver County): 5 miles east, 3 miles south of Center. The best largemouth bass lake in the state. Open water year-round allows warmwater fish to grow better than in other lakes. Abundant quality-sized bluegill and crappie. (Fishing pier).

Nelson Lake (Sargent County): 4.5 miles south, .5 miles east of Forman. Abundant pike. Moderate numbers of perch and walleye. (No ramp).

Neustel Lake (Kidder County): 2 miles north of Robinson. Walleye up to 15 inches in length are abundant in this developing fishery. Low numbers of perch are also present. (No ramp).

New Johns Lake (Burleigh County): 11.8 miles south, 3 miles east of Mercer. Decent walleye numbers, with some larger fish. Pike numbers increased in recent years. Good number and sizes of smallmouth bass. Periodically stocked with muskie. (Fishing pier).

New Rockford Reservoir (Eddy County): North side of New Rockford. Primarily a pike fishery, but walleye and smaller perch also present. Bullheads too abundant. (Fishing pier, no ramp).

Niagara Dam (Grand Forks County): North of Niagara. Winterkills often. When a series of nice winters occur, nice-sized pike available. Currently pike over 24 inches and lots of bullheads.

North (Hoffer) McClusky (Sheridan County): 2 miles north, 1 mile west of McClusky. Recent fishkills have greatly reduced the northern pike numbers. (No ramp).

North Carlson Lake (Ward County): 10 miles east of Ryder. Good number of northern pike and mostly small perch.

North Des Moines Lake (Kidder County): 5.5 miles east of Robinson. Fair numbers of northern pike. (No ramp).

North Golden Lake (Steele County): 10 miles east, 4 miles north, .5 miles west of Finley. Perch numbers are down with most less than 10 inches. Fair numbers of keeper pike and walleye. Walleye longer than 20 inches and pike up to 10 pounds. Low number of bluegill but decent-sized. Bullheads are a serious fish management problem.

North Lake Washington (Eddy County): 8.5 miles south, 1 miles east, 1 mile north of Warwick. Good population of one and two year old walleye that are now up to 18 inches, with most fish being smaller. Some keeper-sized perch but most are still too small to be harvested. (No ramp).

North Lemmon (Adams County): 5 miles north of Lemmon, South Dakota. Rainbow trout stocked annually. Some brown trout up to 2 pounds. Abundant small yellow perch. Fair number of bluegill, with some up to a half-pound. Fair number of largemouth bass, mostly 1 to 4 pounds. Good number of walleye, mostly 3 to 10 pounds. (Fishing pier).

Northgate Dam (Burke County): 6 miles north, 1 mile west, 2 miles north, .5 miles west of Bowbells. Good populations of walleye and bluegill. Stocked with rainbow trout annually, with some nice-sized carry-over trout. Fair number of black crappie and a few largemouth bass. (Fishing pier).

Nygren Dam (Morton County): 6 miles north, 1 mile east, 3 miles north, .5 miles east of Flasher. Catchable-sized trout are stocked in the spring and small bluegill and 10-14 inch largemouth bass are abundant. (Fishing pier).

Lake Oahe (Not Specified County): The fishery downstream of Garrison Dam to the South Dakota border was greatly impacted following the flood of 2011. Fortunately, the upper Oahe fishery recovered much better than the Garrison Reach. Forage conditions have improved and growth rates of walleye have followed. Most walleye from the abundant 2009 year-class are now 20-plus inches and reproduction was very good from 2014-16, so smaller walleye are abundant. Pike abundance has declined from recent years, but average size is excellent, with many fish surpassing 20 pounds. Channel catfish are very abundant and vastly underutilized throughout upper Lake Oahe.

Ryan Park Pond (Grand Forks County): South side of Grand Forks. This small urban fishery is a good place to take a kid fishing and is stocked annually with trout. Bluegill also introduced. (Fishing pier, no ramp).

Lake Sakakawea (Not Specified County): Walleye fishing was exceptional in 2018 and should remain so in 2019. High forage abundance and good habitat conditions have allowed Sakakawea walleye to maintain good body condition, good growth rates and high abundance. Overall walleye abundance is the highest documented in the last 45 years due to several strong year-classes in recent years. Anglers will find excellent numbers of 15- to 20-inch fish in 2019, with good numbers of larger fish present.

Northern pike abundance has declined from record highs the last couple years, but still remains exceptional. However, the population is maturing and average size is increasing. Pike exceeding 15 pounds will become more common in 2019 and the next few years.

Smallmouth bass population remains good and anglers will continue to encounter good numbers of fish. The population also contains good numbers of whopper-sized fish.

The Missouri River salmon fishery was greatly affected by high water in 2011, but has recovered well. Salmon fishing in 2016-17 but was somewhat slower 2018. However, the fall spawning run and egg collection efforts documented a strong spawning run of fish. Additionally young male salmon were very abundant in the 2018 spawning run, suggesting that the 2017 year-class is strong and fishing should be good over the next couple years. With high flows thru Garrison Dam in 2018 entrainment thru the dam likely was higher than normal for the 2018 stocking. With a strong smelt forage base, salmon fishing should remain good in coming years.
